Summary. As a longstanding entity of the NAEA, the Women's Caucus remains a highly engaged, cohesive, and forward thinking Issues Group. Historically and to the present day our members and leaders have included nationally recognized, award winning researchers, educators, and contributors to the NAEA.

Outreach: Our outreach to the NAEA and beyond include our research, conference presentations, our increasingly popular conference Lobby Session; Art Exhibition Catalogue; Awards ceremony; Breakfast with an invited artist; our mentoring program; our postcard project, and through our website, blog, and Facebook group.

Social Media: The Women's Caucus currently actively maintains a website, blog, and Facebook group to share our resources, research, and art; and to connect, conduct surveys, advance initiatives, and reach out to WC and NAEA members and beyond. We are adding to our compliment of online sites and resources two online curated collections of resources using two social bookmarking sites: Scoop.it and Pinterest. Our Twitter account is currently underutilized. <http://naeawc.net/>

Issues to bring to NAEA

- We seek information about how decisions are made about the total number of conference sessions allotted to the Women's Caucus.
- We also seek avenues through which the Women's Caucus and other Issues Groups representing diverse sectors of the NAEA may advance initiatives and policy recommendations to the NAEA Board.
